THANK YOU

FOR NOT PROVIDING ALCOHOL OR OTHER DRUGS TO OUR TEENS

We can work together to help our teens have a safe graduation celebration.

- Teen alcohol use increases the risk of fatal car accidents, poor judgment and decision making, and can have long-term, perhaps irreversible, effects on the teenage brain.
- Talk to your teens about the dangers of drinking. Research shows that parents are the #1 reason young people decide not to drink.
- Are you celebrating your teen with a grad party? Choose not to contribute to underage drinking. Pay attention to alcohol being served at the party, or better yet, set an example for alcohol-free celebrations and keep alcohol off the menu.
- Did your teen earn a scholarship? Problems with alcohol could result in revoked admittance. Help our teens make safe choices this graduation celebration season.
- College is just around the corner. Have honest and open conversations with your graduate to make sure they are prepared for any situation they face.
- Keep your teen safe down the road. Pledge to have a conversation with your graduate about underage drinking and impaired driving.
